

Trakref and Trinity Consultants Partner to Deliver New Refrigerant Management Services

Two industry leaders will team up to create a best-in-class refrigerant management offering combining software with consulting

Trakref, the leader in software-as-a-service solutions for refrigerant and HVAC/R systems, and Trinity Consultants (Trinity), a leading environmental consulting firm, today announced a strategic partnership to provide a turnkey refrigerant management solution for companies looking to meet compliance, sustainability, and ESG goals.

Many companies working to measure refrigerants for the first time often do not have the data required to properly report on ESG initiatives and for regulatory bodies. This can lead to challenges being able to properly use software – without the right information and governance to manage refrigerants, it is difficult to track them, even with the best tools available. Trakref and Trinity Consultants are able to tackle this problem through Trakref's software tools and Trinity's consulting knowledge.

Typically, a client works with Trinity to audit their facility assets and compliance activities, and to receive training in refrigerant management requirements. Trinity then collaborates with the client to implement Trakref to measure and track refrigerant inventories, emissions, and other data needed for regulatory (federal and state) compliance and ESG reporting. This strategic partnership will enable customers to have the tools needed to successfully manage their refrigerants.

“Trinity Consultants has been a great partner in the past and are proven experts in refrigerant management compliance,” says Ted Atwood, President and CEO of Trakref. “With this partnership, we will enable companies with the expertise and software needed for ESG reporting and climate disclosures, especially in the wake of recent rulemaking from the SEC and California’s SB 260.”

According to Trinity President and CEO Jay Hofmann, “We’re pleased to partner with Trakref to help clients address rigorous refrigerant management requirements. Together, we can deliver exceptional customer experiences that prepare companies for ever-changing regulations and standards.”

Trakref and Trinity Consultants provide a turnkey refrigerant management solution companies can count on as they prepare to report on Scope 1 emissions as part of the SEC’s rulemaking on climate disclosures and California SB 260, as well as other state-level initiatives. Leveraging the expertise of both organizations, clients benefit from the coaching and technological solutions they need to prepare for the future.
